4. Station reports that Allende is concerned about his international image and suggests this due, in part, to the impact of the Agency propaganda campaign.

5. Station suggests that propaganda effort focus on rising frictions between PCCh and MIR in an effort to create a split in the UP.

B. Accomplishments:

Headquarters and Santiago Station continue to exchange ideas for possible press exploitation. Although reporting on placements or replay has decreased considerably, Santiago Station notes that Allende is concerned about his international image and suggests this may be due to the impact of the Agency's propaganda activities.

C. Situation:

Aside from the announcement that the PDC and UP negotiating teams have reached an agreement, there has been little evidence of PDC activity. Meanwhile, Allende is working to reduce frictions within the UP and is concentrating on offsetting the bad image created by our external propaganda and publicity.
